OUR THANKS

To you, the pastors of the Church, we give our thanks for three things:

First, for your efforts in providing LIFE funds for the seminaries and schools. You have given us increased impetus to plan for the future.

We covet your continued efforts in providing financial resources for theological education.

Second, for providing us with able and devoted students. A poll among our student body not long ago disclosed that these men were influenced toward ministry by the example and encouragement of their pastors more than by any other factor.

Third, for being here at this Convocation!

Alvin N. Rogness
